Mission

The Constitution-class is Starfleet's first true explorer. In the prime universe timeline, explorers would not be seen until early in the 24th century.

Technological insights gleaned from scans of the Narada have advanced Federation technology faster than in the prime timeline.

Background

The destruction of the Kelvin was the divergence point between the prime universe timeline and the alternate timeline that was created with that ship's destruction. In the original timeline, the Constitution-class would be launched in 2245, but in the alternate timeline those plans were shelved while the Federation reverse-engineered the technology scanned from the Narada. Launching in 2257, Starfleet debuted its first explorer, a massive starship dwarfing all previous Federation designs in both size and power.

Features

The Constitution is armed with powerful rapid-fire type VII phaser banks, Mk 22 DF photon torpedo launchers, and the very sturdy CIDSS-2 deflector shield grid. This armament makes the alternate universe Constitution significantly more powerful than its prime universe counterpart. As with the prime Constitution, the alternate Constitution has reinforced life support.

Ships in Service

Name	Registry	Notes
U.S.S. Constitution	N.C.C. 1700	Prototype and lead ship of the line (2257).
U.S.S. Enterprise	N.C.C. 1701	Launched as the Federation flagship under the command of Captain Christopher Pike (2258).

Appearances

Series	Media
TOS	Motion Pictures "Star Trek" 2009, "Star Trek Into Darkness" 2013.

Alternate Timeline Availability

The arrival of the Narada from 154 years in the future had a profound effect on not just Federation history, but the history of the entire Alpha Quadrant. The Kelvin's survivors escaped the Narada with detailed scans of the ship from the future, enough for the brightest minds of Starfleet to reverse engineer some of the technology they witnessed, putting the Federation decades ahead of where it should have been in its systems, particularly with weapons and shields.

Group	Sensors	Operations	Propulsion	Weapons	Shields
Federation (alternate)	+5	+0	+0	+20	+20
